Crimes occupy city police

A $1,000 theft at Beach Economy Drug, three traffic mishaps in less than 24 hours and apprehension of two Negro shoplifters gave city police Chief Lathon Garriga and of-Billy Carbonette a busy few days.

Missing from Beach Drug was $100 in cash and $900 worth of narcotics taken sometime between closing time Thursday night and Friday morning. Entry was gained by climbing rear steps and smashing the top of a glass door was apparently forced opened after removing the dial. The prescription department was a shambles with prescription files spread all over the floor. Detective Paul Hale of Gulfport was called in for fingerprinting. We congretefully say, however, that CD workers were on the ball—we reached what had been a large, dust, empty field back of Standalans Stadium at roughly 2:00 apparently everybody who is anybody was there including a large number of vehicles—ambulances, police and sheriff's assombbiles, etc. Bert Stieffel stated that the main purpose was to see if key CD men could contact their workers immedissely if disaster should strike and obviously they did a real fine job. We think it most admirable that so many left air condistanced businesses or tv rooms to bake in over 90 degree heat for the general good of the community, but feel impelled to community on the most dramatic entrance of Carl Banderet who whitzed up on a bicycle as the surprise alert caught him carless. . . and Charlie Carter, jr. one of the few really in the know beforehand, who arrived in a bright yellow work helmet and was covered with paint! #### Letter in Time

Next we want to congratulate and thank Emily (Mrs., Rene) de Montinzia for getting Bay St. Louis and in turn Mississippi some favorable publicity for a change. Many have read the beau-lially worded letter she wrote to the editor of Time magazine published in this week's issue, Rev. Burns of St. Augustine's Seminary accompdatingly informed us of this fact, and of course we dashed our to purchase a copy. As there is now a scarcity of Times in town, we'll inform those who did not read the letter that she pointed out the fact that while rioting was rampest in New Jersey on the afternoon of Aug. 21, here in Bay St. Louis Richard Barthe, the internationally famous negro sculptor, was being henored at a reception in his home town by a gathering of both races. The festivity was so impromptu, she added that for a while punch was served by none other that Chief of Police. Lathon Garriga! (We can't resist adding that should have been the picture of the week, but someone slipped up somewhere.) Owen Williams is in line for congratulations having received his master's degree from Mississippi State last Wednesday, Wife Jane and children David, Karen, Doug, Cricket and Richard were on hand to see the presentation.

Our spologies to Brewster Mollere-for the first time in almost five years we slipped up on wishing him a happy birth-day. . . he cut his cake, or maybe just drank his bubble-up last Monday, Aug. 24.

Bette Hill is buster than ever these days-in addition to her Pink Lady chores she's now showing a line of fashions in her spare time.

in a recent survey, WVUE, Channel 12 in New Orleans received scattered reports from a few people in this area that they have trouble getting a good picture on Channel 12.

Frankly, these reports baffled us; most people here tell us they get a fine picture. (Why shouldn't they? Channel 12 with 316,000 watts is New Orleans' most powerful station; our antenna soars 1,049 feet into the clouds.) To get to the root of the conflicting reports, we sent our Channel 12 mobile engineering truck (shown above) to every home that had reported poor reception.

In a faw cases, we discovered the trouble was in the TV set. In most cases, the antenna was to blame-it either wasn't oriented for 12, or it was an old low-band antenna that picked up only channels 2 to 6.

In every case, we found that in this area, Channel 12 is as strong as any New Orleans station! if you're not getting a good picture on 12, why not call your TV Serviceman? He can either orient your antenna for Channel 12 (without disturbing other channels) or replace it with an all-channel antenna that'll give you a much better picture on all existing channels (2 to 13)yet it costs no more than an old-style antenna that picks up just a few channels. The great, new ABC fall programs on Channel 12 start September 14. Why not call your TV Serviceman today?

Water Sports

Growing by leaps and bounds, water sports has become one of the most popular pastimes in recent years on the Mississippi Gulf Coast. The Gulf Yachting Association, in cooperation with its member yacht clubs, has capitalized fully on this form of recreation.

The Lipton Cup Regatta, symbol of sailing superiority for the member GYA clubs and attracting national interest, is held annually and draws yachtsmen from fourteen participating clubs, including those at Sarasota, St. Petersburg, Panama City, Fort Walton, Fairhope, Mobile and New Orleans as well as the clubs at Gulfport, Pass Christian, Biloxi and Bay-Waveland.

Last year's Regatta was won by the Bay-Waveland Yacht Club, which automatically becomes the 1964 host club. The Regatta will be held there Labor Day weekend. September 5-6-7.

One unique feature of the Lipton Regatta is that competing boats are owned and furnished by the Gulf Yachting Association member clubs. A certain number of identical Gaff Rigged Keel Sloops, called "Fish Boats" because of large red fish on their sails, are owned by each of the GYA clubs.

For the Regatta boats are drawn by lot as they compete for the three-foot high, $10,000 Lipton Cup.

In addition to the Lipton Cup Regatta, other boating and sailing events make the Mississippi Gulf Coast a major mecca for sailing and fishing: The Mississippi Coast Yachting regattas, the Blessing of the Shrimp Fleet at Biloxi, the annual Outboard Motorboat Racing Jubilee, the Coast Power Boat Squadron's cruises, the Fourth of July Deep Sea Fishing Rodeo at Gulfport, the Pass Christian Fishing Tournament and Gulf Hills' Water Skiing Sweepstakes.

The Mississippi Sound, the Gulf, the Bays, Rivers and Bayous, together with the outlying islands make the Mississippi Gulf Coast area a water sports and fisherman's paradise. With small craft harbors and marinas springing up in ever increasing numbers, the Mississippi Coast is recreationally and commercially coming into its own as a mecca for boatsmen and yachtsmen.

Boating has become big business as millions of people find surcease and fun by the sea. Our waterfront is our biggest natural asset as we seek additional opportunities to use it to build a more diversified prosperity.

Each of us can play his part in this development by encouraging a more intensive use of water resources along Mississippi's Seven Cities by the Sea.

Dilemma?

Mississippi supporters of Sen. Barry Goldwater may have a problem on Nov. 3, since there may be two sets of electors pledged to the senator on the ballot. There is substantial sentiment among Democrats favoring that party having two slates of electors on the ballot. One slate would be pledged to President Lyndon Johnson and the other either unpledged or pledged to Senator Goldwater.

Those favoring the twin set of Democrat electors think the total of the votes received by Republican electors and the Democrat electors pledged to Goldwater will be counted as the vote for Goldwater. Thus if this scheme is adopted and if the combined vote for the two Goldwater slates determines the winner, then for President Johnson to get Mississippi's electoral vote, Democrat electors pledged to him must obtain a majority of the votes cast.

The big "if" here is whether votes for different slates of electors pledged to the same candidate can legally be added together in determining who won. On its face it appears to us that such votes can not Technically none of us ever votes for a presidential candidate. We vote for individuals who will represent us in the electoral college and these electors vote for the president. In fact under our constitution these electors could choose for president someone who had not been a candidate, although the Supreme Court might somehow rule this return to the system used to elect our early presidents now unconstitutional.

Completely aside from the technical problem is the practical one: if you add the votes Elector Smith reccives to the votes Elector Bourgeois got which one gets the combined vote?

If the senator's supporters are primarily interested in his election, as distinguished from prestige and political patronage, then there should be but one set of electors pledged to the Republican nominee. Probably the intelligent thing to do would be for the Republicans to back Democrat electors pledged to the Republican standard bearer.

Index misleading

For some time we have been curious about what factors were used by the Bureau of Business and Economic Research of Mississippi State Univer-Sity in arriving at its business activity index for municipalities. These are published each month in Mississippi Business Review. When that publication's August issue gave Bay St. Louis the figure of 353 for June, well over double the preceeding year, our curiousity grew sufficiently to prod us into writing to find out the bases of the index.

We knew business activity and prosperity in the area was way up over preceeding years, but 353 seemed a mighty big figure. An index figure of 253 sounded more likely to us.

This week Mr. Louis M. O'Quinn, associate director of the Bureau of Business and Economic Research, answered our inquiry in part as follows:

The index is made up of bank debits, city salestaz collections, and telephones in service. The bank debits may be somewhat out of line. But city salestax collections have gone up about proportionately. On the basis of city sales-tax collections only, the index rose from about 150 at mid-summer 1963 to about 331 at mid-summer 1964. So perhaps our index number is not too far off anywhere".

The comment that "bank debits may be somewhat out of line" is probably the result of our letter, which pointed out that the only banking facility at MTO is a branch of Hancock Bank, Bay St. Louis. This results in many payrolls being credited to Bay St. Louis when only a third, or some such fraction. of those on the payroll live and shop in Bay St. Louis or even Hancock County.

Unfortunately bank debits are not the only criteria out of line. A telephone call to Mr. O'Quinn yesterday disclosed that the state tax commission had not indicated in their report on sales tax collections that Bay St. Louis's rate went to one per cent on May I compared to one half per cent previously.

However, allowing for all such distortions, the med is mighty prosperous. The April index figure was 275 for Bay St. Louis, and the sales tax levy was still one-half cent then. Even it an index figure of 250 would more nearly reflect reality, we're still midity wall off. Our neighboring municipalities gree ground 150.

You wouldn't think my fish as insignificant as a guppy could give rise to an interesting legal question, but here it is.

Janet Trapani decided she'd like in decorate the house with bowl of guppies and goldfish, so off she marched to the pet shop. The clerk packaged up the fish that Janet had picked out and then suggested adding's nice fish bowl, some pretty gravel, the proper kind of vitamin-enriched fish food, and all the other iazz that sales ladies think you have to have for a proper small-

Mass Trapani tried to keep the purchase reasonable, but finally agreed to some of the suggestions just to get out of the place. And, just as the clerk was wrapping it all up, one of the gupples decided to become a mother. The clerk insisted that newborn fish belonged to the pet shop and would have to be left behind. Janet, pretty upset over the whole business by this time, insisted that they should go with their mama.

Janet won, we're happy to report, and walked home with her fish bowl complete with proud mother guppy and neven new offspring. Congramistions, Janet, stick up for your gupples and all your other rights everytime.

The boaring and fishing fever overcame Ray Kidd last week; he bought a nice 16-ft. lapstrake with a 35 pusher. Ray himself hasn't had much of a chance to use the hull yet, but the Kidd kids have been giving it plenty of exercise water skiing.

Paul Cox is sporting a brand new Catalina as of last week, but that's not all. He got to thinking about the effects of beach and fishing trips on a new car, so he picked up a very respectable '53 Studebaker for the beach buggy. The fishing wagon has been blessed with the name Air Force One in honor of Paul's former employer.

Another recent retiree from the Air Force is Norman Vaughan, who joined L.S. Elliott and this reporter for an early session on Jourdan River last Saturday morning. So, who caught the few decent fish that we brought back? Norman did, of course. That's what happens when you try to play the expert and show somebody else how it's done.

Walking into the company cafeteria last Friday noon, Hugh Hall saw stuffed flounder advertised as the day's entree, Hugh thought he'd like a nice stuffed flounder for lunch, so he ordered it. After he had tried to eat it, he still wanted a nice stuffed flounder for lunch. But he should have known better. This is the same eatery that starts out Monday with western stew. By Tuesday it has thickened up enough to be touted as Hungarian goulash. Adding water and bean sprouts yields Japanese sukiyaki for Wednesday. Thursday's soup du jour is out of the same not after more water and a vegetable are tossed in. But on Friday the chef goes all out, dropping in four small shrimp to pro-

Cecil has collected his share of the finny friends from the bay waters while here. and he'll no doubt give a good account of himself around Mobile Bay, too.

Lee Paul is returning to fishing after abusy summer of work with the little leaguers. He picked a good time to start floundering and has been doing well enough to supply the table ;

Scotted Wilbur and Faye Gerosa fishing Watts Bayou from the Washington Rd. bridge last Sunday and stopped to see their hanl. Paye was landing some nice shellcracker with the slaughter pole while Wilbur was tending the crab nets. The crab nets weren't producing many crabs, but they were doing real well bringing up both box turtles and their meaner brethren, snappfurties. Turtle soup, anyone?
If anyone would like to claim their racing pigeon, please call at the office of the Sea Coast Echo. Please, Dominick Alexander was on his way fishing Monday when his nearly ran over the bird with his hike. So, naturally, he decided to present the crimer to us and continue on his way. That's known as giving us the bird. So far the pigeon seems to be resting comfortably and eating well. ## Scouts make 50-mile hike on Appalachian

Three 13-year-olds, two of them members of Boy Scout Troop 220, spent five days and four nights on a 50-mile hike along the Appalachian Trail last month working for their scout hiking badges.

Successfully completing the trip were John E. Dougher of Nicholson Avenue and his cousin, John Dougher of Raleigh, N.C., and Walter Christian of Vacation Lane, Waveland, They were accompanied by the fathers of the two local lads, John S. Dougher and W.R. Christian.

The party motored to Gallinburg, Tenn., and started their hike between there and Newfound Gap on the Alum Cave Trail. They came down at Fontana Dam, N.C. John Christian, 12, started out with the group but had to leave them after one day when he hurt his foot.

The others, some with 40nound packs on their backs. spent the nights in sleeping bags at shelters along the way, cooked out and got a first hand view of nature. It was the second try for Dougher and his son who had earlier learned what equipment could be omitted and lightened their loads. Their airdale dog, Muggs, tagged along while Mrs. John Dough-er and daughter, Chris, vacationed with Mrs. Edward Dougher and daughter, Sally, of Ra-leigh, at Gatlinburg. Mrs. Christian stayed with relatives in Chattanoogs, Tenn.

"Without Labor Nothing Prospers'

Though the Great Teacher preached in Galilee th. . "the laborer is worthy of his hire," in no other time and place has the dignity of labor achieved the recognition given to it under America's profit system.

Capital and labor, working together, have done more for more people than any other economic system on earth.

This partnership has worked the American miracle to produce the highest standard of living. with more health and happiness, than man has known since the Lord God commanded him in the beginning "In the sweat of thy face shalt thou eat bread."

And labor and capital provide that happy combination that is unlocking a more prosperous future for Mississippians.

So, it is appropriate that on Labor Day we commend all workers for the major role that has been theirs in the development of this Nation. We also take this opportunity to make public acknowledgment of our appreciation for our Company's 725 loyal employees. We are justly proud of these men and women, all of whom are dedicated to serving our more than 120,000 residential, commercial, and industrial customers in Southeast Mississippi. Their skills, devotion to duty, and esprit de corps provide a priceless asset. They are your good friends and neighbors.

In expressing our gratitude for the privilege of working with our fellow associates in this worthy undertaking, we salute Mississippi's labor force on a day set aside to pay tribute to the dignity of all honest callings. It is as true today as when said by Sophocles, the Greek poet, in the year 400 B.C. "Without labor nothing prospers."
